

2C Class Presentation (Global Warming)

Scene 1

Narrator: Once upon a time, there lived a beautiful princess in a faraway kingdom. She was already eighteen years old, and the king and queen thought it was time for the princess to find a husband.

Princess: Morning, mom and dad.

King: Morning, my darling. Look at our beautiful daughter. She is the most beautiful girl in the world. Don't you think so?

Queen: Definitely. And our beautiful daughter should get married with someone since she is already 18 years old.

Princess: Oh, mom and dad. Please don't make me marry anyone. You know I love you both, and I don't want to leave you.

Queen: Don't be silly, darling. You can't stay with us forever since we are getting old. ~~One day we'll die.~~

King: Yes. You need to find a husband who can take care of you, ~~and that person will also be the king after I die.~~ He has to take care of our country.

Princess: Okay, then. But when you choose my future husband, please remember to choose a person who is kind-hearted and clever so that our country will become a better place to live because of him.

King, Queen: Don't worry, daughter. We will choose the best of the best for you.

Scene 2

Narrator: So the king ordered all clever and kind-hearted young men to gather together in his palace. The king and the queen were going to choose the most suitable man to be the husband of the princess.

King: Young men. Now I'm going to choose one man among you to be the husband of the princess. You can tell us the reasons why you think you are suitable to be the prince of our country.

Queen: But we will only choose someone who is kind-hearted and clever so that our country will become a better place to live because of him.

Man A: (Step forward, speaking proudly) Your Majesty, my father has the biggest car factory in this country. Every month, my father's factory produces thousands of cars. If you choose me as the prince, I promise I will donate ten thousand cars to poor people in this country.

Queen: So you mean our country will become a better place to live if you are chosen to be the prince, right?

Man A: Definitely! So please choose me as the prince!

King: Is there anyone else who wants to be the prince?

Man B: (Step forward, speaking proudly) Your Majesty, my family owns the largest power plant for generating electricity in the country. Every day, we burn coal and produce cheap electricity for the whole country. If you choose me as the prince, I promise I will provide free electricity to all people for 6 months.

Queen: So you mean our country will become a better place to live if you are chosen to be the prince, right?.

Man B: Definitely! So please choose me as the prince!

King: Is there anyone else who wants to be the prince?

Man C: Your Majesty, I think our country will become a better place to live if I am chosen to be the prince.

Queen: Do you own any big factories or big businesses? Does your family have a lot of money?

Man C: No, your Royal Highness. I just come from a poor family. I lead a simple life and I only use basic things in my daily life. For example, while all my friends are using iPhone X, I'm using a Nokia 3310. To me, a mobile phone should only be used for making phone calls. I don't need any extra functions.

King: What? If you have no money at all, how can make our princess happy in the future?

Man C: Let me explain to you, your Majesty. The other men here may be very rich, but they won't bring happiness to people in the future. They will only cause global warming for the future generations.

ALL: Global warming ?? What do you mean?

Man C: Global warming means an increase in the average temperature in the world. The average global temperature has increased at a very fast rate over the past 50 years.

Man A: Are you kidding me? My family produces cars. Why does it cause global warming?

Man C: The cars made by your family run on petrol. When petrol is burned, carbon dioxide is released into the atmosphere. Carbon dioxide is a greenhouse gas which can trap heat in the atmosphere, so the temperature increases.

Man A: This is nonsense! Your Majesty, please don't trust this stupid guy! He only knows how to use a NOKIA 3310!

Man B: My power plant produces electricity and it won't harm the environment. Why did you say it causes global warming?

Man C: Your power plant uses coal to generate electricity. When coal is burned, carbon dioxide is also emitted into the atmosphere. If you let all people use electricity free of charge for 6 months, there will be a lot of carbon emissions!

Man A: This is ridiculous! Your Majesty, please don't trust this fool! He only knows how to use a NOKIA 3310!

Princess: (turn to Man C). I trust you because you seem to be an honest person. But if I marry you, how can you make our country a better place to live?

Man C: I have a team of professionals to help people in this country reduce global warming. Now they will explain to you what we can do.

Dr A: First, we will teach people to stop using cars that run on petrol. We will introduce electric cars since they have less carbon emissions. But of course, it's even better if people can walk or cycle instead of going by cars since there is no pollution.

(Some students ride bicycles/scooters across the stage)

Dr B: In addition, we will use cleaner energy resources to replace fossil fuels. We'll close down all power plants which use coal, and we'll switch to alternative energy like solar power, HEP and wind power.

(On the stage, some students hold windmills in their hands)

Dr C: Furthermore, we will teach people not to waste electricity. For example, we have to turn off all electrical appliances after using them. If possible, we can use fans instead of air-conditioners.

(On the stage, some students fan themselves)

Dr D: We believe that if everyone in this country can be more environmentally friendly, the issue of global warming will be solved in the future, and our country will be a better place to live in the future.

Princess: Dad, I think Man C is the most suitable person to be my future husband. He REALLY cares about the environment and our future. He is kind-hearted, clever and able to make our country a better place to live.

King: OK. (Turn to Man C) From now onwards, you will be the prince of this country, and your team of experts can also stay in my palace.

Queen: Yes, these experts can give us their advice and opinions on how to be eco-friendly.

Man C & Princess : (hold each other's hands) Thank you, mom and dad.

Narrator: So the new prince and his team of experts finally succeeded in helping the world to relieve global warming. The prince and the princess lived happily ever after.

THE END