Narrator (N)	Once upon a time, a girl named Cinderella lived with her stepmother and two stepsisters. Cinderella was a diligent and curious girl, and she had to work hard while the others slept well into the day. Although Cinderella was interested in Science, her evil stepmother didn't allow her to study at school. So she always studied on her own.
Cinderella (C)	(wearing a pair of glasses, sweeping while reading her F.3 Chemistry textbook)
Stepmother (SM)	(Stepmother and the 2 sisters walk into the scene, take away Cinderella book and throw it on the floor) You are not allowed to study in my house, ungrateful girl! One day I will make you marry an old nobleman so that I can get more money. (The trio laughs evilly.)
Cinderella	(Pick up the book and brush off the dust) I don't want to marry anyone! I want to be more than just a wife! I want to be a scientist! I want to be an independent girl!
Sister 1 (S1)	What a nerd! There is no way you can be a scientist.
Sister 2 (S2)	How naive! There is no way you can make a living yourself. (The trio laughing)

C	Never mind! When we encounter problems, we can always seek help from Science! Oh, I remember that sodium carbonate (baking soda) can dissolve stain! If there are oily stains in the kitchen, we can spread some baking soda on them and wipe them with wet towel. (Apply the baking soda on the stain, most of the stains gone) (Excited) See?
